Money To Be Used For Men's Gymnasium — Memorial To Her Husband, Late George Preston Blow

Mrs. George Preston Blow, of Yorktown, Va., and La Salle, Ill., has, together with her children, made a gift to the College of $100,000 for the construction of a gymnasium as a memorial to her husband, the late George Preston Blow. The building will be known as the George Preston Blow Memorial Gymnasium.

Mr. Blow was born in Norfolk, Va., in 1860. He was appointed as midshipman to the Naval Academy and graduated in the class of 1881. His career in the service was an active and interesting one and he left an

John Powell Coming To William and Mary

Students who enjoy music will be given an unusual opportunity to hear the recital of a great artist, John Powell, the celebrated Virginian pianist of national and international fame, and now on a concert tour of America, who will give a piano recital at the College April 23.

Mr. Powell is a native of Richmond and is a graduate of the University of Virginia. Later he went to Vienna, where he studied piano under Leschetizky, who was until the time of his death the recognized head of the musical world. In the same city he

College Honors Jefferson's 180th Anniversary

The 180th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Jefferson was observed at William and Mary with exercises featured by an address by Dr. John Garland Pollard. Dr. Pollard referred to Jefferson as the most distinguished alumnus of the College, and gave other interesting incidents connected with his career as a student.

According to the speaker, Jefferson frequently acknowledged the great debt of gratitude he owed to William and Mary, emphasizing specially his associations with George Wythe, under whom he, together with John Marshall and Henry Clay, read law. Dr. Pollard stated that it was during Jefferson's residence in Williamsburg as governor of the State and visitor of the College that he instituted many changes at William and Mary, having to do especially with the establishment of a school of law and medicine.

SAFFELLE'S GREAT PITCHING AND SCRAP'S STICK WORK FEATURES

ENTIRE INDIAN NINE SHOWS UP WELL

Coach Driver's William and Mary nine found the Harvard Crimson's best pitching bets, Hill and Bemis, for a total of 17 hits and 14 runs in Richmond Tuesday while the airtight fielding of the entire Indian team and the excellent hurling of Saffelle, Coach Driver's freshman marvel, held Harvard batsmen to six hits and a blank in the score column. Only 31 Crimson batters faced Saffelle, of whom only three advanced as far as third base. Tuesday's defeat was the worst that a Harvard nine has suffered in years, and is the first meeting of the oldest and second oldest institutions in America.

The Indian hitters have averaged thirteen hits and nine runs for their four games, which include victories over Amherst, Virginia, and the Crimson and a 5 to 3 defeat by Penn State.

Harvard threatened to score but once, in the eighth inning when Larabee opened with a single and Bemis and Clark drew free passes to first station, clogging the bases. But Harvard's one chance to score failed to materialize, for Thayer drove a long fly ball to Moss who held Larabee on third by his beautiful return throw; Gordon struck out, and Jenkins made the third out when J. Chandler made a long running catch of the grid star's line drive to left field.

The Indians scored twice in the initial frame on a walk to Lowe and a circuit clout by J. Chandler over left field wall. Singles by Hicks, Lowe, Benton, two passes and a wild throw by Hill netted the Indians four counters in the third inning and spelled the showers for Hill. Bemis, who succeeded Hill on the mound, fared scarcely as well as his predecessor, the William and Mary team scoring once or more in every inning till the end of the contest.

Not satisfied with an eleven run lead, the Indians took three additional ones in the eighth when Cooke opened with a single; Lowe dropped a Texas leaguer to left and J. Chandler sent his second circuit drive of the game over left center fence.

Joe Chandler, Indian left fielder, was the individual fielding and hitting star of the day. Chandler had five put outs and one assist to his credit and at the bat he connected for two home runs, one double and singles in four times to the plate. Denton with two doubles and two singles in five times up and Hicks with a double and two

Virginia Scientists To Gather At William and Mary April 26

Everything is in readiness for the meeting of Scientists to be held at the College April 26-27, when the proposed Virginia Academy of Science is to be organized.

The program calls for a general meeting open to the public on Thursday night, April 26. At this time President Chandler will welcome the guests, and President Henry Louis Smith, of Washington and Lee University, will reply. This meeting will follow a preliminary organization meeting Thursday afternoon. It is expected that a permanent organization will be effected on Friday morning. Gatherings for the presentation of scientific papers will take place Thursday afternoon, Friday morning, and Friday afternoon. While these papers will not be confined to any field, special attention will be given to problems of conservation, and those relating to the Dismal Swamp.

During their stay in Williamsburg, the guests will be given an opportunity to visit Jamestown, Yorktown, and other historic places in the vicinity. The feature of the entertainment is a trip to the Dismal Swamp, made possible through the courtesy of the Department of Inland Fisheries and Game.

A preliminary meeting of prospective members of the Academy living in this section has been called for April 18, at the College.

Philomatheans Sub- scribe $15.00 To Gym Fund

The Philomathean Literary Society, at its regular meeting Saturday night, voted by unanimous consent to subscribe from its treasury the sum of $15.00 to the Gym Fund. This action was taken following the completion of the program.

The program was featured by three excellent declamations and a debate on the subject, "Resolved, That student publications should not be subject to censorship by the faculty." The declaimers were E. B. Moffitt, R. V. Perdue and J. M. Hord. The debate was decided in favor of the affirmative, upheld by S. C. Hall and M. B. Reynolds. The negative was debated by E. W. Wright and F. O. Adams, Jr. In addition, good readings were made by J. H. Binder and R. D. Cooke.

Theological Seminary Defeats Indians

The strong Union Theological Seminary team had little difficulty in taking the William and Mary team into camp Monday afternoon, 4 matches to 1. The Preachers presented one of the smoothest working outfits seen here since tennis became a recognized sport.

The feature of the meet was the match between Wilshin, of William and Mary, and Spence, of the Seminary. Wilshin won the first set handily, 6-4, but the second was repeatedly deuced, Wilshin finally winning, 10-8, after both players had weakened appreciably.

In the doubles Pollard and Wilshin threatened seriously to defeat the Seminary doubles stars, Spence and E. Woods, by winning the first set easily, 6-1. The next two sets were lost, however, 6-3 and 6-4.

Summary: Wilshin, William and Mary, defeated Spence, Seminary, 6-4, 10-8.

E. Woods, Seminary, defeated Pollard, William and Mary, 6-3, 6-4.

Lilly, Seminary, defeated Cline, William and Mary, 6-3, 7-5.

Spence and E. Woods, Seminary, defeated Pollard and Wilshin, William and Mary, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4.

J. Woods and Lilly, Seminary, defeated Cline and Peterson, William and Mary, 6-3, 6-3.

Spring Gridiron Training Begins

Thirty-five men responded to the initial call for spring football practice and probably a dozen more will answer soon.

Coach Tasker, who succeeds Coach "Jim" Driver, as athletic Director, is holding strenuous workouts in order to get as good a line as possible on his candidates. Among the letter men, who are seen in uniform are: Williams, end; Cofer, backfield; Elliott, center; and Haskell, tackle. Several more varsity men are expected to report.

This is the first time that William and Mary has held spring football training.

Manager Gay Issues Call For Assistant Football Managers

Manager Stanley Gay, of the football team, has issued a call for assistant managers to report for duty at once. It is very important that those who desire to become candidates do so without delay. Two candidates have reported so far, Albert Carlson and H. J. Lewis, both freshmen.

HERE AND THERE

SOUTH VS. NORTH

The North was pitted against the South, and the South was the victor. "Fair Harvard" put up a clean sportsmanlike fight, but the Indians had their stride and kept it to the end of the game. K. N. Hill and Bemis, the Crimson's best, were unable to find any Indian weakness with the stick, while Saffelle seemed to get their measure from the very beginning.

* * * * *

"Scrap" had a perfect day and a glorious one both in fielding and batting. He drove two into the river over the left field wall, one in the first inning with one man on, and another in the eighth with two ahead of him. In addition, a two-bagger, a single, and a walk netted him an average of 1000. In fielding "Scrap" put to his credit five putouts and one assist. His brilliant catch of Jenkins' line drive to left was an outstanding feature of the game. Denton also batted and fielded well, with two doubles and two singles in five trips.

* * * * *

Though they were clearly outplayed and defeated, the Harvard players showed a spirit of good sportsmanship entirely worthy of the school from which they came. They took their medicine like true gentlemen, and not a kick was registered at any stage of the game. It should be an inspiration to younger schools to see the two oldest institutions of learning in the United States to meet in such a friendly and sportsmanlike manner.

* * * * *

It was gratifying to note the interest taken in the game, not only by the people of Richmond and the students who went up for the game, but by others as well. During an hour and a half the writer spent in the Times-Dispatch office after the game, more than 150 calls came in asking for the result of the game. One of these was from E. B. Faison, of New York, who was a student here with Professor Shewmake. A large number of students went up for the game, nearly half of whom were girls, and there was quite a bit of rooting throughout the contest.

* * * * *

Richmond, a junior, is showing lots of stuff. He has been displaying lots of form recently, and has a good stock of hooks and good control. Coach Driver took him on the trip, and it is fairly certain that he will get his chance to show himself before the team returns to Williamsburg. In the outfield, Coach Driver has a steady lot of material to pick from with "Scrap" a fixture in left, and Moss, Todd, Love and Saffelle for the other two positions. The loss of Thompson on the trip is a blow to the team, but with the team going as it was in the Harvard game, there should be no uneasiness.

hotly contested, judging from the match last week.

Although the William and Mary netmen were badly defeated by the Seminary team last week, they are going to Richmond determined to make a better showing against their more experienced opponents. The Seminary team has not suffered a defeat for three years. All four of the Seminary players have had seven years' experience in college meets, having played on the Davidson College team for four years and at the Seminary for the past three years.

Strong Faculty Nine Meets Bankers To-day At 4 O'clock

The strong faculty nine will meet the Bankers' League of this city this afternoon at 4 o'clock in what is to be expected to be a bitterly contested game.

The probable line-up of the Faculty team is Voke, first base; Robb or Simmons, second; Siersma or Rowe, third; Zehmer, catcher; Gwathmey, pitcher; Fitchner, Dolloff, Lyons, Babcock, outfield. The line-up of the Bankers' League could not be ascertained before going to press.

The game will be called at 4 o'clock sharp and every student will no doubt be anxious to see the two teams in action. An admission fee of 15c will be charged, which will be given to the Gym Fund.

Indian Netmen Seek Revenge On Union Theologs In Richmond On Friday; Also Play Randolph-Macon Saturday

The William and Mary tennis team left Friday morning for Richmond where it will play a return match with the strong Union Theological Seminary team this afternoon. Tomorrow the team will go to Ashland to meet the Randolph-Macon netmen.

The line-up Friday will be somewhat different from that last week when the preachers administered a decisive licking to the Indians. Wilshin and Cline will probably pair up in the first doubles and Pollard and Peterson in the second doubles. Peterson may play the second single match so that Pollard may be at his best in the doubles, which will be

VIRGINIA ACADEMY OF SCIENCE

The Association of Virginia Biologists will meet at William and Mary April 26 for the purpose of effecting a more comprehensive scientific organization, which will be known as the Virginia Academy of Science. This meeting of biologists of the State will be a signal honor for the College, and all students should appoint themselves as a committee of one to make the sojourn of the visitors here as pleasant as possible. The event is a great one for the Department of Science, headed by Dr. D. W. Davis. Dr. Davis has appointed a local committee to take care of arrangements for entertainment and such matters. The students should co-operate with this committee in every respect. The occasion commands as much consideration as the celebration of Harding's visit here last year. The same whole-hearted support and co-operation from the student body is expected on April 26 as was given on the day of Harding's visit.

YOUR SUMMER VACATION

William and Mary men students who have made no other plans for the summer, will have the opportunity of spending both an enjoyable and instructive four weeks at the Citizen's Military Training Camp, which will open at Camp Meade, Maryland, June 26.

As an inducement to attend the camp, the Government is offering free transportation, clothing, board and quartering, in addition to physical training and as worthwhile recreation as is to be had in America. The only thing required by the Government is six weeks of the student's time, which will prove of much greater benefit to the student than to the Government.

Dr. D. W. Davis has charge of the selection of candidates for the College. All those interested are urged to consult with him as soon as possible.

The Vestry of Bruton Parish Church desires to put upon record their sense of loss in the death of their colleague, Mr. Norville L. Henley.

Mr. Henley was a Virginia gentleman and a Christian. His never-failing kindness and friendliness, his loyalty to his friends; his devotion to his family; his public spirit; his "Charity towards all men"; his warm-heartedness towards rich and poor alike—all these made him loved and honored all over the part of Virginia in which he lived and practised his profession and made him devoted friends in the General Assembly of Virginia. The whole community mourns his loss, and the Vestry grieves for him as for a brother.

As a vestryman and a Christian, he was faithful, zealous, and conscientious. He rendered most valuable service in various activities of the church, and gave of his time and means to promote the interest of the parish. His brotherly kindness, his gentleness, and his Christian courtesy made him a beloved member of this Vestry. We shall treasure his memory as a sweet possession.

We therefore spread these testimonials of our love and of our sorrow upon the records of the Vestry and send copies to his bereaved family, and to the press for publication.

Whitehall Literary Society Holds Elections For Ensuing Year

Whitehall Literary Society elections held last Saturday night in chapel resulted in the following elections for the ensuing year: Helen Lannigan, President; Josephine Gray, Vice-President; Leah James, Secretary; Mona Mutter, Treasurer; Etta Belle Walker, Program Committee; Florence Fleet, Music Committee; Dorothy Zirkle, Dramatic Committee; Hope Drewry, Publicity Committee; Muriel Valentine, Literary Critic; Margaret Ritchie, Parliamentary Critic; Elizabeth Deshazo, Literary Magazine Representative.

March Literary Magazine Ready For Distribution

The March issue of the Literary Magazine just to hand shows a continued improvement in both style and quality.

The traditional effect of spring-time on poets is easily discernable in the increased number of poems contained in this issue—poetry comprises half (in number) of the contributions. Another interesting article on China, by P. K. Chen, is in this issue, as well as several essays and short stories.

The Magazine also offers something novel in the way of two fantasies.

Due to lack of funds, there will be only one more issue of the Magazine this session. Therefore, all persons having contributions are urged to hand them in to the staff immediately.

Dr. Rowe Speaks To Phoenicians

Dr. Joseph E. Rowe, of the faculty and honorary member of the Phoenix Literary Society, gave a most entertaining and intellectual discussion on the question of "The United States Proving Grounds an Unnecessary Expense."

Dr. Rowe spent several years at the large Government Proving Ground on the North Chesapeake Bay. He pointed out to the Society that the varied tests made at these grounds were not a useless expense, but very essential. He concluded his remarks by expanding the theory of Colonel Roosevelt, that preparedness would preserve peace.

The Secretary, R. F. Simms, will be responsible for the program next Saturday night.

Y. M. C. A. Cabinet Elected For Next Year

Next Year's Program Planned

The Y. M. C. A. Cabinet has elected the cabinet members for next year as follows:

President—David C. George.

Vice-President—W. H. Graveley.

Secretary—George W. Reilly.

Treasurer—J. J. Ambler.

Editor-in-Chief, "Students' Handbook"—Geo. C. Manneschildt.

Chairman Social Committee—J. C. Phillips.

The cabinet selected these men because of their efficient work and the interest which they have shown in the "Y" this year. Mr. George, who was president this year, will serve for a second term. Mr. Graveley, who rises from treasurer to vice-president, will also serve as chairman of the program committee, and, with the secretary, Mr. Reilly, will assist in publishing the "Students' Handbook."

A brief review of the progress which the "Y" has made in the past few months is encouraging. After a period of several years, in which the "Y" had little or no activity as a college organization, it has developed into a vital force in the students' lives. It has secured and furnished a recreation room, purchased a large selection of choice Victrola records, games, amusements, and magazines and papers of every desirable type. It has contributed to various worthy causes, and has done many things to develop the Christian spirit at the College.

The "Y" is planning a more active and a more wide-spread program for next year than it has been possible to carry out this year.

After the annual Freshman and General Socials, the "Y" will hold regular meetings and devotional exercises; and it will bring speakers of national renown, who will talk on subjects of interest and importance to every citizen of America. The State Association has made arrangements for such activities.

Perfection will never be reached, but if the Y. M. C. A. progresses as much next year as it has during the past nine months, it will be one of the most important elements in the spiritual and recreational phases of college life.

Professor Babcock Lectures On "Modern Woman" At Meeting Of "Y. W."

The feature of the Y. W. C. A. program on Thursday night, April 12, was a lecture by Professor Babcock, of the English Department, on "The Modern Woman."

A number of "mere men" were in the audience, but these contented themselves merely with occupying the balcony and lending their moral encouragement from that remote distance. Thus supported only by his handful of contemporaries, Professor Babcock proceeded, nevertheless, skillfully to broadcast anti-feminist propaganda by the wholesale, hoping doubtless, in this way to combat the growing movement toward the all-sufficiency of woman, which, according to his statement, must ultimately render man useless and unnecessary, so that he will become as extinct as the Dodo.

Although, perhaps, Professor Babcock intentionally exaggerated the seriousness of the situation, his argument was in many ways convincing, as attested by the fact that a number of the women present were heard to express themselves as favoring the Lord Lochinvar type of lover, who must of necessity disappear, said Professor Babcock, if the feminist movement continues.

Several musical numbers and recitations were on the program in addition to Professor Babcock's lecture.

Nominations Made For '23-'24 Literary Magazine Staff

The Literary Magazine Staff, meeting on Friday night, April 13, nominated the Staff for the next year as follows:

Editor-in-Chief—E. W. Brauer.

Assistant Editor—B. L. Tucker.

Associate Editors—Henry Moncure, R. E. Kenrard, E. C. Joyner.

Business Manager—J. A. Wilkins.

Circulation Manager—B. G. Williams.

To the list of nominees will be added one representative from each of the two women's literary societies. The men's literary societies approved the nominations on Saturday night at their respective meetings.

The election of the Magazine staff will be held at the same time the Echo staff is elected, at which time other nominations may be made from the floor.

Professor Babcock Addresses J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society

Dance Program Saturday Evening

At a meeting of the J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society, held last Saturday evening, Professor Babcock read "Marse Chan" and a poem, "Christmas Night in Quarters," in a very delightful and entertaining style. The Society expressed the appreciation of his readings and asked him to entertain the Society at a future date.

The Society voted to contribute a proportionate sum of money along with the Whitehall Literary Society, the two men's societies and the "Y. W." to defray the expenses of bringing John Powell, the celebrated pianist, to the College.

Tomorrow evening there will be a delightful dance program, featuring the latest dances, as follows:

Nature dance, Folk dance, aesthetic dance and clog dances.

This will be an open meeting and every one is urged to be present.

Juniors Accept Ring For Class of '24

The Junior class has accepted the design made by the J. V. Mulligan Company, of Washington, D. C., for the class ring. The ring will be made up in green or Roman gold. On one side of the setting there is a reproduction of the mace, surrounded by thirteen stars, emblematic of the thirteen original States. On the other side is a crown, symbolic of the old King and Queen College, with the College coat-of-arms. Around the setting, which may be of garnet, turquoise, bloodstone, amethyst, black or green onyx, jade, sardonyx, or topaz, is engraved the name of the College—the custom is to change the stone, sometimes the seal, each year.

Tommy Jordan is taking orders for the rings. The price is $22. The dies have been completed and orders placed now will be filled about May 15.

Professor Bennett's "Psychology Of Self Development Published"

"Psychology of Self Development," the title of Professor H. E. Bennett's new book, is almost self-explanatory. It is intended as an elementary text on the psychology of learning. The publishers, Ginn & Company, are expecting to have this book on the market in time for next fall's sale. Students of William and Mary will doubtless be given an opportunity for closer acquaintance with this book a few terms hence.

Plans Memorial Suites For New Dormitory

According to a plan now under consideration, the new dormitory building to be erected in the near future is to be made up in part of a series of memorial rooms and suites endowed by friends and relatives to the memory of distinguished alumni and teachers of the College.

If the plan is carried out, one of those upon whom this honor will be bestowed is Gronow Owen, the Welsh poet, who, at one time, was a member of the faculty of the College.

Gronow Owens was educated at Oxford, and immediately after leaving the university was admitted to the priests' Orders. His life from that time on consisted of a series of moves from one curacy to another until finally, in 1758, perhaps to remove him from the temptations of the English taverns, his friends obtained for him the mastership of the school attached to this College. True to his former record, he held this position for only two years, during which time he was married to Mrs. Clayton, who was a sister of the then President of the College. In 1760 he was dismissed from the faculty for having led the students in a riot between the men of the College and the town boys. After his dismissal from the College, Owen went to Brunswick County, Virginia, where he became minister of St. Andrew's church, and he remained there until his death in 1769.

Owen's poems, of which there are two volumes in the library of the College, are written entirely in Welsh, and, at the time of their publication, excited considerable interest among lovers of Welsh literature. So far as is known, no translation of his poems exists at this time, but it is planned to send at least one of the best of his poems to a Welsh friend of the College for translation.

Mr. Padgett Offers To Boost Gymn Fund

"I will give one-third of whatever cash that I shall take in on Wednesday, April 25, 1923, for the benefit of the Gym Fund.

"Show your college spirit by sending your clothes to be cleaned and pressed on that date and boost the Gym Fund another notch higher."

2000 Proverbs And Sayings Collected By Professor Blanton

Two thousand proverbs and sayings have been collected, one thousand of which have been classified, according to Mr. Robert Blanton, of the English faculty of the College, who will soon publish a book on proverbs.

Mr. Blanton wishes to thank those who have assisted him and to ask those who have not already made contributions to do so within the next week.

The following list will give an idea of the nature of some of the proverbs:

"You can catch more flies with a spoonful of sugar than with a barrel of vinegar."

"Tattle-tale-tit, your tongue shall be split, and every dog in our town shall have a little bit."

"Doing business at the old stand."
"Dressed up, drunk, and highly perfumed."

"She's got a face that would stop a seven-day clock."

"There never was a goose so gray that soon or late, wasn't sure to find a gander for a mate."

"Pushing up daisies."

"Patting your face with a spade."
"Fire is a good servant but a bad master."

"Feed me with apples for I am sick with love."

"April Fool, go to school, tell your teacher she's a fool."

"It takes pra'r and a hickory to raise a boy."

Cotillion Club Plans For Easter Dances April 27 and 28

The Cotillion Club held a meeting on Monday night to discuss the plans for the Easter Dances, which will be held on April 27 and 28. It was decided that only fifteen passes would be given by the Club to these dances and that applications for the passes must be in at least a week beforehand so as to give a committee of the Club officers opportunity to select the fortunate fifteen. It was further decided that all visitors must be informed of the rules concerning drinking at dances, and that anyone asked to leave the floor because of drinking would not have the admission fee refunded.

COLLEGE CELEBRATES MONROE'S BIRTHDAY

cently presented to the College by its alumni and friends, will be used for the first time. Hon. Guy D. Goff, Assistant Attorney-General of the United States, will be the principal speaker.

The occasion of the anniversary of the birth of James Monroe is one of special significance at William and Mary. In 1774, at the age of sixteen, he became a student at the College, and remained here until 1776 when he entered the 13th Virginia Infantry and took an active part in the War of the Revolution. After the war, Monroe entered politics and played a large part in the affairs of his native State. After a brilliant career as a lawyer, legislator and statesman, he was elected President of the United States in 1816, which office he held, by virtue of his re-election in 1820, until 1824. It was in 1823, during his second administration, that he delivered his message to Congress which has since become known as the Monroe Doctrine. During his entire life, Monroe was a staunch friend of the College, and rendered it many services.

As many as possible of the descendants of President Monroe have been invited to be present at the celebration; and, in addition to these, a number of alumni and friends of the College are expected to be in attendance.

DEBATING TEAM GOES TO SOUTH CAROLINA

and Mr. A. J. Winder, who will represent William and Mary, will debate the negative of the question, "Resolved, That President Harding was justified in vetoing the Bonus Bill as passed by Congress."

This is the second year which Mawson and Winder have debated together, and with their past experience they should bring back two victories for William and Mary. Charleston, like Williamsburg, is rich with traditions and historic spots; so that, with the honor which they have won and the value of the trip, Mawson and Winder should be well repaid for the labor which they have spent in preparation for the debates. Handsome gold medals bearing the seal of the College will be awarded the team.

Chi Delta Phi Pro- gramme Interesting

Theta Chapter of Chi Delta Phi met in Jefferson Hall at ten o'clock last Friday night. The program, under the direction of Beverly Ruffin, was "Famous William and Mary Men of Letters." One member read "A Virginia John Alden," a feature story of the courtship of John Camm, the last of the colonial presidents of William and Mary.

Titles were suggested for the story by Miss Lucy Holt, which was read at the last meeting.

INDIAN SPASMS

Medical Student: "What did you operate on the man for, Doctor?"

Doctor: "Three hundred dollars."

Student: "Yes, I know, but what did the man have?"

Doctor: "Three hundred dollars."

—Penn State Froth.

Teacher: "What's anatomy?"

Pupil: "Anatomy is the human body, which consists of three parts—the head; the chest; and the stummick. The head contains the brains, if any. The chest contains the lungs and livers. The stummick is devoted to the bowels, of which there are five—a, e, i, o and u, and sometimes W and Y."

—Punch Bowl.

WHO WOULDN'T?

A farmer was offered $500, less 10 per cent for cash, for a race horse, and after trying to figure all night what would be taken off by the ten per cent, he was still unable to decide. When he went down to breakfast next morning he called the waitress:

"Will you answer a question for me?" he asked.

"Sure, buddy, shoot," she said.

"If I were to give you $500, less 10 per cent, what would you take off for the ten per cent?"

"All but my ear-rings."

—Black and Blue Jay.

Once in the years gone by a man came to the ticket office of a New York Theatre and the following conversation took place:

"Have you got any seats?"

"Yes, we've got 900 of them."

"Are they good seats?"

"They are covered with raw silk."

"Can I get two for tonight?"

"If you've got the price."

"Are those the seats for tonight?"

"No, those are the tickets, the seats are inside."

"Will they be there when I come?"

"Well, they are screwed to the floor."

—Current Opinion.

"I think I'll drop in on the boys," said the miner as he fell down the shaft.

—Ex.

Conway: "You cut my neck."

Barber: "You said to shave your Adam's apple."

Conway: "But I didn't say to peel it."

MRS. GEORGE PRESTON BLOW MAKES GIFT OF $100,000 TO W. & M.

excellent record when he resigned in February, 1900, to enter business. He was one of the survivors of the Maine when she was destroyed in Havana harbor.

In 1893 Mr. Blow married Miss Adele Matthiessen, of La Salle, Ill., and later made his home in La Salle, being interested in various business enterprises there, and at the time of his death was president of the Western Clock Company and director of the United States Chamber of Commerce. He is buried in Arlington Cemetery.

Mr. Blow's strong characteristics were his intense patriotism and his love for his native State. Some years ago he purchased the Thomas Nelson house at Yorktown, then almost a ruin, and restored it. York Hall, as it is called, with its beautiful grounds which now include some adjoining properties, is one of the most attractive homes in Virginia.

During the last two years of his life, Mr. Blow took a great interest in the College of William and Mary. He gave the College a scholarship in honor of his grandfather and father. He also made a contribution to the Memorial Dormitory in their honor. His grandfather was George Blow, 1st, of Sussex County, Virginia, a graduate of the College of William and Mary in 1804. Afterwards he was a member of the Board of Visitors of William and Mary. His father was George Blow, 2nd, an A. B. of the College of William and Mary in 1830, a member of Congress of the Republic of Texas, Brigadier-General in the Virginia Militia, member of the Virginia Secession Convention, Lieutenant-Colonel in the Confederate Army, and Judge of the First Judicial Court of Virginia.

The growth and expansion of the College in recent years has made it necessary to convert the old gymnasium into class rooms leaving the College with no gymnasium except the one for women in the basement of Jefferson Hall. This put the College at a great disadvantage in all athletic activities and seriously curtailed the work of the department of physical education.

It is a source of great gratification to the authorities of the College of William and Mary that this generous contribution of Mrs. Blow and her children should have been given in connection with one who through a long line of ancestors was vitally connected with the College, and who, himself, was devoted to its interest and rejoiced in the many evidences of the growth and larger influence of the institution.

It is a further source of gratification that this gift, which is the largest individual donation ever made to the College, should have come from one whose residence at near-by Yorktown enabled her to know from personal observation the needs of the College and also the merit and justification of its appeal for a larger and more adequate equipment.

studied composition under Nawratil, another noted musician.

After several years of study, Mr. Powell made his debut in Berlin in 1907, later appearing in Vienna, Paris, and London, which appearances were followed by a series of 12 recitals. He has since appeared in concert in all the leading cities of Europe and America.

A unique and interesting combination of talent and skill is found in Mr. Powell, who in addition to being an accomplished musician is a wrestler of considerable reputation, having been at one time the amateur champion of Virginia.

Mr. Powell has composed a number of large works, comprising sonatas, piano and violin pieces, string quartettes, oratorios and symphonic dramas. His most important productions are his Rhapsodie Negre, for piano and orchestra; his Sonata Teutonic, and his Sonata Virginianesque, for piano and violin. He is also well-known locally for an orchestra overture composed especially for the Centennial of the University of Virginia, the title of which is "In Old Virginia."
